

We Have Been Certified as an "Okinawa human resource development enterprise authentication system"

American Engineering Corporation (AEC) is proud to announce its official certification under the Okinawa Human Resource Development Enterprise Authentication System by Okinawa Prefecture on November 19, 2024.

▲the Certification Ceremony

▲Certification

This certification program recognizes companies committed to employee development and aims to improve working environments. By certifying companies that excel in fostering employee growth, enabling them to find fulfillment at work while enhancing their skills and building careers, the prefecture encourages proactive efforts in employee development and strives to improve the quality of employment across the prefecture.

At AEC, we remain committed to creating a positive and supportive work environment. This certification reinforces our dedication to employee development as we continue striving to become an even better organization.